Behind the Scenes

Is it that time of year again? Already? Each year, the summer AT season seems to sneak up on us. Perhaps the only thing that should surprise us is that it still surprises us.

As the "Layout/Design" manager of Buffalo Quarterly Review, I am always looking for good ideas for stories, as well as good photographs to include in the following edition. These can come from almost any location, either local or remote, and can be submitted in a variety of formats. For stories, I would prefer to receive them on a floppy disk in an MS Word file, although I can convert from a number of other applications. Also, you can use email to send me your submissions. Send them to:

Lawrence.E.Weill@usa.xerox.com

HOWEVER, please do not hesitate calling me just because you do not have access to a PC. I'll happily accept typed or handwritten accounts of good Navy stories, as long as I can read them.

Photographs are another item that we (and most other Reserve publications) need on an ongoing basis. Good quality photos that are clear, and show Reservists performing their jobs are particularly desired. If you are sending in developed photos, remember to record the names of the individuals on the back of the photo, along with other critical data such as the time, place, and event shown in the photo.

You can also use email to submit electronic images from digital cameras. The easiest format to send me are JPEG files, which "travel" easily and can be directly added to our newsletter. If you use email, remember to provide the names, dates, places, etc., in the mail note that accompanies the photos.

This month's PAO "Tip of the Hat" goes to PHC Tom Kelly, who sent in numerous electronic images of Senior Chief selectees, and other awards, which appear throughout this newsletter. BZ, Chief Kelly, for your outstanding work!
